The savings can add up, particularly on a large job, when a box bracket, far-side support and cable support are combined in one product to reduce your labor and inventory costs. It is designed for maximum flexibility with flanges for either left or right stud mount, and compatibility with both 4" and 4¹/₁₆" boxes.

- Box bracket, far-side support and cable support combined in one product to reduce your labor and inventory costs
- Built-in cable support secures cable 6" above the box, satisfying NEC code requirements
- Flexible design accommodates both 4" and 4¹/₁₆" boxes
- Keyhole box mounting slots maintain box position if mud ring needs to be removed
- Provides clear access to knock-outs once the box is installed for installation of fittings
- Mounts to either side of the stud
